RECORD PRIMARY VOTE PREDICTED

First Lower Bucks Mother's Day Mother

Twenty-one inch Christopher McCutcheon, son of Nancy, (center), and Clevern McCutcheon, 567 Claymont Ave., Penndel, arrived at Lower Bucks County Hospital at 2:39 a.m. yesterday to become the first child born here on Mother's Day. ## Good Evening!

Okay, the primary election is tomorrow.

Polls open at 8 a.m., close at 8 p.m. Any reason in the world that during this 13-hour span you can't find a few minutes to visit the polls and VOTE?

It's a significant primary, both Republican-wise and Democratic-wise. But the predominent interest is in the GOP race. This means that every registered voter should make it a point to get to the polls.

Temperature 81 yesterday, due for 80 or better today, ditto tomorrow. Summer creeping along in the right direction.

What's this we've been hearing, incidentally, about our various boroughs and townships promoting, supporting and joining in paintup, fixup and cleanup this month?

How come they're permitting municipally owned property to begin resembling jungles as the weeds grow higher and higher all over and as part of the Levittown Parkway remains a disgrace to municipal and civic pride? Isn't it time we buy some lawnmowers?

Dogwood bloom at Valley Forge now in all of its glory.

More than 30,000 visitors yesterday — well, make it 30,001, — agreed the beauty surpasses that of the Washington cherry blossoms, of the Shenandoah apple blossoms and even, maybe, the Langhorne azaleas.

Garry Cooper dies of cancer and it is rather sad.

Cooper always a towering figure in the entertainment world, a man who remained a humble, natural figure despite all of his successes, and one who gave infinite good to the film industry and the country's entertainment business, without ever succumbing to the temptation of the bad.

Phillies win two in a row by beating the Cards yesterday 6-4 and after losing ten in a row.

We refuse to get excited about 'em now until they win the next eight straight.

Communique No. 12: Lovely morning, lovely day, lovely world. Sprig of celery beginning to taste like a filet mignon (medium, please), and a half glass of skimmed milk better than a martini (extra dry, of course).

Watch your driving.

Musmanno Testifies

Links Eichmann To 'Slaughter House'

JERUSALEM (UPI)— Adolf Eichmann was a member of the Nazi inner circle that decreed the death of six million Jews, an American judge testified today.

He also swore that Eichmann was in charge of a flying squadron of Nazis—"a slaughter house on wheels"—specially created to exterminate Jews.

Judge Michael Angelo Musmanno of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court had to wait a long time today to start his testimony, because Eichmann's lawyer waged a long, hard fight to keep him off the witness stand. But the court ruled that Musmanno could testify about things he heard at a time when he was a commander in the United States Navy on a mission to try to find out whether Adolf Hitler survived World War II.

JUDGE MUSMANNO

As soon as Musmanno began to testify it became obvious why the defense fought so hard against him. Musmanno had heard plenty. His testimony struck a hard blow at the defense story that Eichmann was an obscure little lieutenant-colonel, on charge of a minor department and blindly obeying orders that came down from the top of the Nazi chain of command.

Musmanno is a slender, white-haired man who spoke in a precise voice and came up with quick answers to questions. He made these points:

—That he heard from the lips of Hermann Goering that Eichmann was a member of the high command that decided to destroy the Jews of Europe, Goering told him the others were Hitler, Martin Bormann, Josef Goebbels, Heinrich Himmler and Reinhard Heydrich.

—That Eichmann was in direct

From Bensalem Boat Yard

Police Probe Theft Of 4 Outboard Motors

Bensalem Township police today are continuing their investigation into the theft Saturday, night of four outboard motors from the Brodecki Boat Yard on Neshaminy Creek at the foot of Totem Road in Bridgewater.

The theft was discovered yesterday morning by Edward Brodecki, owner of the yard, when he arrived to open for the day's business.

Police believe the thieves made their getaway in a boat on the creek after they broke a lock on a door to gain entry.

Brodecki said the motors were valued at about $600. The theory that the thieves hauled their cache away by boat stems from the absence of tire marks on the roadway leading to the boatyard. Brodecki said the motors weighed a total of about 800 pounds.

One of the motors was taken from the showroom while three were removed from the basement, Brodecki said. The cellar door through which the motors were taken is six feet from the mooring slip.

Investigating the theft is Ptl. Joseph Gallagher.

Interest In D. A. Battle

Democratic and Republican voters of Bucks County will break all primary election records tomorrow by sending 50 to 55 per cent of their numbers to the poles, Chief Clerk Harold F. Hellyer Sr. of county board of elections predicted today.

Hellyer based his high estimate on the tremendous interest in contests for nomination for county offices this year in both parties, and the keen competition for local offices, principally tax collector, in the county's 54 boroughs and townships.

Usually a primary election draws only 30 to 40 per cent of the voters.

$150,000 Bond Issue

Independent and non-partisan voters will have no place at the poles tomorrow, except in Quakertown, where borough council is letting the citizens pass on a proposed $150,000 bond issue to fix the streets.

Bucks County has 58,696 Democrats and 73,309 Republicans.

The Republican county primary election will hold the main interest tomorrow in the bid by District Attorney Paul Beckert of Levittown to be nominated for a second term.

Beckert vs. Patton

Beckert is endorsed by the county GOP executive committee. He is challenged in the primary election by Harold S. Patton, also of Levittown.

The Democratic district attorney nomination contest features David A. Clarke, of Morrisville, endorsed by the Democratic executive committee, against Peter J. Vederame, Levittown.

Also in the county Democratic primary are a threeway contest for sheriff and two-way race for jury commissioner.

Meeting Again Delayed

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States bowed to British and French pressure today to permit the Communist Pathet Lao rebels to attend the 14-nation conference on Laos as equals. But the formal opening of the meeting was delayed again until at least tomorrow.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, co-chairman of the conference, informed Secretary of State Dean Rusk that there would be no formal opening tonight. The two also said there would be no communique this evening announcing when the meeting would take place.

U.S. sources said the only hitch was that the final views of the Royal Laotian government delegation, some of whose members arrived only this afternoon, had not yet been received.

Gives In To Pressure

Rusk earlier in the day gave in to British and French pressure and agreed to attend the conference even though the Communist rebel group is being given equal status with the royal government and neutral delegations.

U.S. officials said President Kennedy "reluctantly" authorized Rusk to go along on this basis, rather than "wreck" the conference even before it begins.

But the United States was preparing to issue a formal statement that its decision to enter the parley with the Communist Pathet Lao and neutralist delegations from Laos did not mean it recognized their right to be there. The United States recognizes only the royal Laotian government group.

The conference will get underway with a brief formal opening ceremony tonight or Tuesday, U.S. officials said.

The meeting originally was scheduled to begin last Friday but bogged down in confusion and bickering over the question of representation for rival delegations from Laos.

Kennedy May Meet With Nikita

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President Kennedy today awaited word from Geneva and Moscow on whether it will be possible to meet informally with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in Europe early next month.

The Chief Executive and his wife planned to fly back to Washington this afternoon after a long Florida weekend. They were expected to take off in a government jet transport at 3:15 p.m., EDT, arriving about two hours later at Andrews Air Force Base outside the capital.

A decision on th meeting with Khrushchev was not expected before Kennedy returns from Canada next Thursday. The Chief Executive and his wife fly to Ottawa Tuesday afternoon for a two-day ceremonial visit, their first trip to a foreign country since the inauguration.

Kennedy, it was understood, is giving serious consideration to the possibility of meeting Khrushchev in Stockholm or Vienna shortly after the President visits in Paris May 31-June 2 with French Presi-

Crane To The Rescue

Fishing Boat Freed From River Pilings

A giant crane from the Western Dredge Co., Camden, N. J., lifted a 40-foot fishing boat off some pilings on which it was stuck near the Bristol shore of the Delaware River this morning.

The crane maneuvered for an hour trying to place slings under the boat both fore and aft.

Just before 11:30 a.m. it raised the boat, swung it onto a barge and chugged off upstream.

Bottom Ripped

The bottom of the fishing boat had been ripped by the pilings.

The crane was there on an emergency call from the owner of the boat, Edward Homcik, 47, of 52 East Columbia Blvd., National Park, N.J.

Homcik and his brother, Peter, 46, and Samuel Blair, 42, both of Thorofare, N. J., had spent the night on the boat. Six others, including four children, had been rescued yesterday evening by George Schmidt, caretaker on Burlington Island, and put ashore in Bristol.

Homcik apparently did not see the pilings, which were below the

This follows today's forecast of gradual clearing, with the temperatures expected to match — if not top — yesterday's high of 81 degrees at 6 p.m.

Scattered thunderstorms are forecast for tonight, with the low in the 60s. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy with a high in the 80s.

Beckert Sees Patton As 'TrialBalloon'

Bucks County's incumbent district attorney, Paul R. Beckert, was very busy this weekend speaking to more than 900 persons at political rallies Friday and Saturday nights.

At both rallies, Beckert urged voters to use their ballot to show their feelings about his candidacy. He also urged voters not to stay at home tomorrow and, "make this a politician's election" by not voting."

During Friday night's meeting, the district attorney said, "the only way any political party can survive is to place the most qualified men on the ballot in the general election in November."

Qualified Candidate

Beckert said, "I don't ask anyone to vote for me unless they feel that I am the most qualified candidate to serve as District Attorney. Don't base your vote on personalities. Ask people who have seen me doing my job; ask jurors, police, witnesses, court attendants. If they tell you I have done a good job, then and only then, I solicit your vote."

Beckert continued, "This unfortunately is not an election between myself and my opponent. It is an election between myself and Mr. Boyer. Patton is merely a trial balloon sent up by the Boyer forces. This my opponent has not denied. If these forces get a decent vote, the Republican party is in trouble for years to come."

Saturday night, Beckert said the politicians often depend on citizens who are too busy or disinterested to vote election day.

"We know that often, the average voter does his complaining after the votes have been counted," Beckert pointed out.

Professional Politicians

The district attorney said, "This is what the professional politician depends upon in putting into office persons whose main qualification is that of blind loyalty to political leaders. If you and I continue to register our complaints by not voting, we are playing right into the hands of the political bosses."

Beckert continued, "I can only vote once. This I am going to do. I have my beliefs as to the duties of an elected official and for the last six weeks I have preached my beliefs. They are that he should do the job he was elected to do to the best of his ability without fear of the consequences of his actions or incurring the anger and wrath of the political bosses.

Doing His Job

"If a District Attorney can't be a District Attorney without being penalized for doing his job by men in fear of losing political prestige, then our system of government has come to a sorry state."

Beckert concluded, "I earnestly hope that there will be a big turnout of voters tomorrow so that the ultimate winner will be the choice of the people and not of the political leaders."

Drop Charges Against Ellmore

Charges of larceny by an employe against Edward Ellmore, former manager of the Bristol Theater, were withdrawn over the weekend before Justice of the Peace Peter J. Harkins, Bristol.

Ellmore, who lives at 913 Lawton Terrace, Darby Township, Delaware County, had been traced after 17 months by Bristol Chief of Police Vincent A. Faragalli and arrested in Darby Township Thursday night.

He was brought before Harkins Friday night and the charges were dropped, Faragalli said, because of restitution he had made. Ellmore had been charged with larceny of money taken in at the theater's box office during the 1959 summer stock and fall movie schedule.

Levittown Boy Struck By Auto

Three-year-old Michael DeSabelle, 147 Goldenridge Drive, Levittown, was slightly injured late Saturday afternoon when he ran into the street a few doors from his home between parked cars, and was struck by a passing automobile.

Bristol Township police took the child to Lower Bucks County Hospital, where x-rays proved negative and he was treated for slight lacerations and abrasions and released.

The auto that hit him, police said, was driven by Mrs. Ellen M. Christan, 90 Main St., Fallsington.

Deer Romps In Levittown

The people who live along Timothy Lane, in the Thornridge section of Levittown, must be city folk, Falls Township police decided this morning.

A small male deer, lured into rashness by the warm sun and springlike weather, stuck its antlers into a series of back yards on Timothy Lane this morning.

It cantered through the yard of Edward Gowrnowski, 32 Timothy Lane, across the street and into the yard behind the home of Abraham Kline, 31 Timothy Lane.

Half a dozen calls from startled residents reached the police switchboard.

Falls Township officers, however, are used to the sight of deer on their nightly patrols. Leave it alone, they decided, and like Mary's little lamb, it would go home, into the woods behind Timothy Lane.

It did.

U.S. To Go

ing with roving ambassador Averell Harriman and other members of his delegation, advised British Foreign Secretary Lord Home that he would give in.

This meant the Pathet Lao delegation of "Red" Prince Souphanouvang would get the same voice in the meetings as those representing the pro-Western royal government of Prince Boun Oum and the "neutralists" of former Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma.

American sources said the first working session of the conference probably would be held Wednesday, although there will be a brief formal opening ceremony today or Tuesday.

The co-chairmen of the conference — Lord Home and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko — were expected to announce the agreement within a few hours.

Before the sudden U.S. reversal was announced, there had been fears the conference might break up altogether.

Now the picture was changed completely.

Rusk's decision was a tough one. He was known to fear possible repercussions in Thailand and South Viet Nam, two American-supported allies who are fearful of making any deals with the Communists.

There was some apprehension in Western circles when no delegations from either of those two countries had arrived by this morning and a report from Saigon said South Viet Nam had decided to send none.

However it was announced today that delegations from both countries would arrive in the next day or two, assuring that the full 14 nations invited to the conference would participate.

Goldfine Pleads Guilty To Fraud

BOSTON (UPI)—Bernard Goldfine changed his plea to guilty today to indictments charging evasion of a total of $790,000 in personal and corporate federal income taxes.

Federal Court Judge George C. Sweeney continued the case until 2 p.m. EDT for sentencing.

'Penniless' DJ Guilty Of Payola

NEW YORK (UPI)—Disc jockey Peter Tripp was convicted today of having taken up to $35,000 in "payola" from record makers and distributors.

The technical charge of which Tripp was found guilty was commercial bribery.

A three-judge special sessions court found the disc jockey guilty of 35 of 39 counts that charged him with him taking payola in exchange for playing the record-makers' selections on his local radio program.

The court fixed June 30 for sentencing. Tripp faces a maximum term of one year in jail and a fine of $500 on each count.

Tripp's attorney, Benjamin Shedler, asked the court to sentence his client today because of "economic difficulties" but the judges declined so they could have time to receive a report from the probation department.

Shedler later explained out of court that Tripp was out of work for seven months after he lost his job with station WMGM here, before taking a job in San Francisco "at very low pay."

"He is absolutely penniless," Shedler said, adding that Tripp must support not only his present wife but a former wife and three children. His wife wept in court.

Levittowner Dies At 70

Mrs. Hilderley is survived by two sons, Arthur C. and E. Bruce, both of Levittown.

Funeral services will be held 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Beck - Dougherty Mortuary, Newportville - Fallsington Road, Levittown. A solemn requiem mass will be sung 10 a.m. at St. Joseph The Worker Church, Fallsington.

A viewing will be held this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the mortuary.

Harvey Resigns After 32 Years

Ernest H. Harvey, of 128 West Maple Ave., Langhorne, resigned today as chief clerk of the Bucks County Commissioners after 32 years.

Harvey, who has been ill more than a year, received high praise from the county commissioners in accepting his resignation. Edward Pierce, assistant chief clerk, was elevated to succeed him for $6,500 a year.

Harvey has also served as county commissioner, State Highway superintendent and on the Bucks County Planning Commission and Washington Crossing Park Commission.

He offered to continue to make his services available to the commissioners as a consultant.

Woman Injured In Middletown

A Foxcroft woman was taken to Lower Bucks County Hospital suffering from shock after the car in which she was riding collided with another vehicle on Route 1, Middletown Township, on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Voncile Weise, 39, was treated and released. She was a passenger in a car driven by Raymond Weise, 28, Foxcroft. Weise collided with a car driven by Archie Ferguson, 42, 434 Penn St., Newtown. Ferguson ran into the rear of Weise's car, police said.

Damage to each car was estimated at $500, Officer George Haller, Middletown Township police officer, investigated.

The woman was taken to the hospital by the Penndel-Middletown Emergency Squad. The accident occurred at 2:25 p.m.

charge of a special mobile force called "einsatz gruppen." Its function was to move swiftly around eastern Europe destroying Jews wherever possible—'a slaughter house on wheels."

Had High Authority

—That despite the fact he never rose past the rank of lieutenant-colonel, Eichmann could and did go over the heads of his superiors to Himmler, chief of all Nazi police. He had the authority to invoke Hitler's name if anybody got in his way.

Today was the first time in the five weeks of his trial that Eichmann showed any interest in a witness. Even through the bullet proof glass of his cage you could see him turn slightly pale as Musmanno unfolded his story. Then Eichmann began to twist in his chair. Finally he took a pencil and began furiously scribbling notes. Usually he stares at witnesses with an impassive, sometimes bored, expression on his face, but today he looked like a man who saw a gallows in his future.

Judge Musmanno said he got his information about Eichmann direct from the lips of Hermann Goering and Joachim von Ribbentrop, Nazi foreign minister.

He said he interviewed the Nazi leaders in the course of an investigation he conducted in behalf of the United States Navy as to whether Adolf Hitler had survived World War II. He held the naval rank of commander.

Musmanno, as a judge at the Nuernberg trials, sentenced 14 Nazis to death. All but four of them subsequently had their sentences commuted.

Musmanno put Eichmann right up at the top of the Jew killers along with Hitler himself.

"Immediately after the war," Musmanno said, "I was appointed to conduct an investigation into the fate of Hitler by the United States Navy. There were doubts as to Hitler's death. I visited prisoner of war camps, displaced persons camps and German establishments and searched for his intimates. I talked with Hitler's admirals, generals, aides, adjutants, secretaries, bodyguards, cooks and butlers."

dent Charles de Gaulle. The final decision may depend on the progress of current Geneva negotiations concerning Laos, plus the success or failure of efforts to produce some signs of forward movement in the long-stalled nuclear test ban negotiations.

Khrushchev has indicated frequently the desirability of a meeting with Kennedy. But the President has taken the view that summitry should be undertaken only after extensive preparations on the ministerial and ambassadorial levels. If there is a conference with Khrushchev, Kennedy would not regard it as a summit meeting, but an opportunity for a brief, informal exchange of views.

It was understood that Khrushchev recently indicated in a conference with U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson that a personal talk with Kennedy might be desirable in the near future.

Lindeberg Files Suit Against Lattomus

E. William Lindeberg, Middletown Township tax collector, filed a defamation of character suit against Robert Lattomus, Republican candidate for the post in Bucks County court on Saturday.

Lindeberg, also a Republican candidate in tomorrow's primary, said Lattomus impugned his integrity in campaign literature.

James Wright, chairman of the Middletown Township Republican campaign committee, issued a statement from the committee today stating: "Particularly disturbing is the false charge that Lindeberg was fired from his position as assistant to Congressman Curtin. Lattomus, as a member of the Middletown executive committee, knows that Lindeberg agreed to resign that position when appointed tax collector in order that the tax office be run as a full time operation."

The GOP campaign committee statement concluded:

"We note with interest that Bob Lattomus is not supporting any local candidates in his literature. Is this an implication that James Cahill, candidate for supervisor; Marge Sweet and Bill Donahue, candidates for school director, are unqualified? All three, like Lindeberg, are experienced and fully trained to perform excellent jobs as a result of incumbency or by service on township commissions.

Lindeberg's suit against Lattomus was filed by William Eastburn III, Doylestown attorney.

"I guess we needed a little comedy to finish the campaign. Considering Mr. Lindeberg I have been very mild. He even gets involved in libel suits when he is not a candidate," Lattomus said.

his party's endorsement, opposed by Arthur J. Stump, of Upper Southampton Township, and Thomas Carey, of Fairless Hills, for Sheriff.

For Jury Commissioner

Mrs. Florence R. Fontana of Ivy Land, the endorsed Democratic candidate for jury commissioner, is opposed by Mrs. Dorothy Kerzner of Levittown.

Two Republicans are seeking the nomination for county comptroller William R. Cameron, of Southampton, with executive committee endorsement, and Russell Schanely of Quakertown.

For local offices, including tax collector, councilmen, township commissioner and supervisor, auditor, justice of the peace, constable and school directors, there are contests throughout the county.

Predicts Patton Victory

George J. Ault of Levittown, campaign manager for Patton, this morning predicted his candidate will win the GOP district attorney nomination by 1,800 votes.

"A large percentage of the committee men ond women of the county are working for our campaign," Ault said. "Many of the Beckert supports are people who will never go from door to door to get out the vote the way we will."

Patton this morning issued a statement denying that his campaign is being financed by the $4,050 "political escrow account" from County Commissioner Edward B. Boyer.

Special Account

Boyer put the money into a special account Feb. 1, the day after a Bucks County jury acquitted him of extortion and bribery. He said the money was the unspent balance of some $7,800 he received from three Lower Bucks discount houses.

Boyer was accused of demanding and accepting the money for promises of "immunity" from arrest for violating the Sunday Blue Laws.

Patton stated emphatically that the money in the escrow account "will not be used in my campaign.

"It is perfectly ridiculous that these funds would be used in my campaign," he said, "when they are under the control of the Lower Bucks Republican Association, the control of which rests in the hands of many supporters of Paul Beckert, namely E. William Lindeberg, toastmaster of the Boyer dinner; Jack Dean, who also sat at the head table at that dinner; John Beiler, executive committee member from Middletown Township."

Absentee Ballots

About 50 absentee ballots have already been cast by county civilians who will not be at the polls tomorrow. Only 135 such ballots are being used this time in contrast to 1,100 used in the Presidential election last November.

Only seven military ballots are being used and three of them have already been cast.

County officers with the exception of those of the sheriff, board of elections, registration commission, and prothonotary, will be closed tomorrow.

Bucks County Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite, the only one of the county's four judges whose term does not expire this year, will be on duty all day to preside over election court, if any disputes cannot be settled by the county board of elections.

3 Judges Endorsed

Both parties have endorsed the three judges whose terms expire and seek new terms of ten years.

They are Edward G. Biester, Republican, Doylestown; John P. Fullam, Democrat, Wrightstown Township, and Lawrence A. Monroe, Republican, Langhorne.

Sees Beckert Victory

Beckert's Lower Bucks campaign manager, Burt Barshay of Levittown this morning predicted Beckert will win the district attorney nomination by a majority of 5,000 votes.

"I base this on Mr Beckert's tremendous reception at the lower end political Friday night at Pennsbury Inn," Barshay said. "He received the greatest Republican ovation since Vice President Nixon came to Levittown last fall. The people respect Mr. Beckert for his past performance in the office, and for his integrity, his honesty, and his fearlessness."

Beckert, when asked how he expects to fare tomorrow, replied: "I'm too close to it to tell. A lot depends on the weather. With good weather and a good turnout of voters I am sure I will win."

William J. Veitch, assistant Republican chairman for Lower Bucks and head of the Lower Bucks Republican Association, said today that none of the political escrow accounts has been used or is being used in the Primary election.

Demo Faction Fight Highlight In Falls

By KENNETH RABBEN
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Falls Township's primary elections tomorrow boil down to a bitter battle between two Democratic factions, a shoo-in for most Republican - endorsed candidates and a close race for the Republican district attorney nomination.

In Falls tomorrow, 11,396 residents will be entitled to vote. Democrats can send 6,626 persons to the polls and Republicans can place 4,770 individuals in the voting booths.

Since three Democratic incumbents seek re-election, their supporters expect to turn out a record number of voters. The GOP organization may not be able to poll as many votes as it would like.

Separate Slate

Scheduled for nomination by the two Falls Democratic factions, each of which offers a separate slate, and the Falls Township Republican Party, are a supervisor, a tax collector, two school directors, a constable and an auditor, as well as the county offices.

Unopposed for nomination by the Republicans are the party-endorsed candidates: — Albert Kellett, supervisor; Robert W. Krieger, tax collector; Clifford W. Owles and Mahlon H. Fiscal, school directors; Lewis Samuels, constable and Walter P. Stroop, auditor.

Falls Democrats have not seemed too concerned with county contests, being content to allow their internecine activities to occupy their time.

Two Factions

One faction, the Falls Township Democrats for Continued Good Government, supports incumbents Milton Berkes for supervisor; David H. Struble for tax collector and Bradshaw Snipes for school director. Others endorsed by this group include Mrs. Ann Massey, school director; Martin Cassidy, auditor and Lester Walker, constable.

The Falls Township Democratic Organization has endorsed Walter Almond for supervisor; Joseph F. Basile for tax collector; Robert Afflerbach and Robert E. Hisey, school directors, incumbent Raymond Fate, constable, and Thomas J. McGoldrick for auditor.

Middletown Candidates May Debate

There may be a debate between the two Democratic candidates for Middletown Township supervisor in the township building at 8:30 o'clock tonight. Then again, there may not.

Arthur Shenefelt, one of the candidates, challenged David Eldredge, his opponent, to the debate a few days ago, stating that he would meet him any place on four hour notice and would stand the rental fee of the hall himself.

Eldredge verbally agreed to the meeting. Virgil White, campaign chairman for the Democratic group supporting Eldredge, agreed by telegram to the Courier-Times.

White mentioned Edward Butler as the one accepting the challenge. Butler is the chairman of the faction of the split Democratic Association of the township, which supports Eldredge.

Shenefelt said this morning he was not interested in having all of the opposition's slate appear for the debate.

"This is strictly between the supervisor candidates," he said. He reported that he was arranging to have the township municipal building available at 8:30 o'clock tonight. White said as far as he knew, there were no arrangements.

The crane, summoned by Homcik's relatives, appeared shortly after 10 a.m. Both front and rear of the boat, named White Waters, were above the water level then and firmly rooted on the pilings, remains of a long-abandoned pier.
